PARISH KNEELERS

Curating folk art in the twentieth century

The twentieth century saw an explosion of folk art across England and Wales, as parishioners designed church kneelers that were local, original and unique. They were inspired by the choir stall seats designed by Sybil Blunt for Winchester Cathedral in the early 1930s.

The Second World War brought creative needlework to an end, but by the 1950s austerity was giving way to a new optimism. Kneeler-making allowed stitchers to be creative and colourful after the many years of making do and mending.

Initially, expert designers such as Louisa Pesel, first President of the Embroiderers Guild, and Joan Edwards, author of embroidery books, thought amateurs were incapable of producing a design and likely to be incompetent at following one. Cautious arrangements of simple, repetitive designs were offered to potential stitchers.

But potential stitchers ignored advisers. They wanted pictures. They produced pictorial designs and stitched kneelers covering an extraordinary variety of subjects.

Size of Kneelers:

the average kneeler is 13" by 9" and 3" high but there are huge variations.

Themes:

What should a kneeler portray? Parish history? Parish landmarks? Local wildlife? Bible stories?

Cost:

initially you will need to buy all the wools, but if you do more than one then the price reduces by using up some of the wool. But on average a kneeler costs around £35 approximately

Design:

Once you have decided on the theme then you need to mark it out on a 1/10 graph paper (that is 1" to 10 stitches) The average kneeler requires 71 stitches from centre to the corner. You will need to choose your wool size. Appleton's wools- used by William Morris- come in 2 ply and 4 ply.

Time:

It takes between 3 months and 3 years to make a kneeler with about 4 hours to put it together.!!!

St Andrew's here in Ipplepen has over 200 kneelers made by local people with passion in our village, they are all works of art, to be used and appreciated.

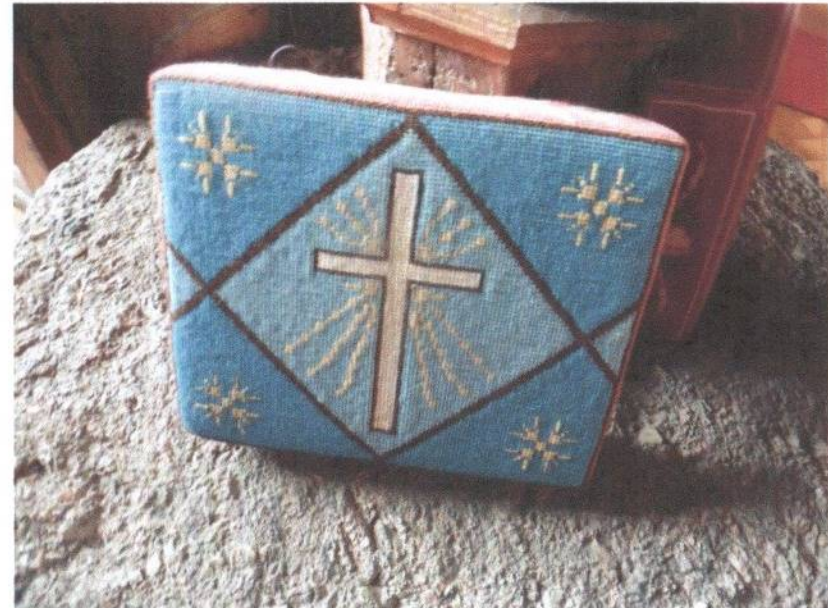

The kneeler is a piece of social history and a way of remembering those dear to us.

We have 5 mission churches - Ipplepen, Broadhempston, Denbury, Woodland and Torbryan with kneelers.
